Strategic Plan Update
Woltjer noted that library staff will participate in the next stage of development of the plan. He received rich community feedback via Coffee with the Director events, Neighborhood Task Force meetings and the public survey.

4 areas of focus:
• Programming
• Outreach
• Facility usage
• Administration

3 goals for strategic objectives:
• Measurable
• Ability to be built upon
• Sustainable past 2020

Timeline:
September – Goals draft ready
October – Present draft plan to board.
November – Presentation of plan to community
December – Board to finalize the plan

Library Hours
Woltjer explained the decision to change library hours, eliminating Sunday open hours and adding those to other days. Feedback from the community showed that there was a need for more family-focused activities. Loss of funds from the State Library provided an impetus to increase efficiency. Sundays are the slowest days for usage and checkouts. With the change, the library will be able to provide more service on the busiest days. Friday evenings will feature family activities.

Fong commented that Board would like more timely communication.

Bach interested in hearing if there is an impact on student research time.

Young commented that the new hours provide a bigger, bolder idea for use of the facility. Board members can now explain the change to people who ask.
Civil Conversations

Woltjer reported that 2 more events are scheduled for the Civil Conversation series.

- September 27 – “Censorship in America” in conjunction with Banned Books Week including an event facilitated the Foundation.
- November 16 – “The Politics of Food” with partners including Art House Cinema and Yellowstone Valley Citizens Council Community Food Campaign

Woltjer would like to create a committee with diverse participation for guidance for topics and panelists for the Civil Conversation series. Darby received a public comment that the topics appeared politically liberal. Darby noted that the topics were timely and controversial issues discussed among reasonable people. Darby said he supports having the conversations in the Library as a neutral venue.

Summer Reading Statistics

Robins reported that the participation in Summer Reading program was up 8% from last year. New software provided a way to add games, challenges, badging and other options for increasing fun. Feedback from the public was very positive. The Library will be able to use the software for other reading programs year-round.

HB 261

Woltjer reported due to State revenue declines, State aid to our library will be cut by $55,000 per year for the next 2 years. The cut will be absorbed in the amount of money spent on collection development. In 2020, the funds may return for 4 years. SINGLETON-DEITSCH offered to help Foundation with grant writing. Rose and Darby suggested funding partnerships for civil conversations.

MOTION: Motion to adjourn.

Approved. Rose/Darby
